Faculty Journal List 2023

About the Faculty Journal List

The Faculty Journal List (FJL) is a dynamic, annually updated list that provides information on which journals are defined as Category 1 or Category 2 within the faculty. This definition was adopted in 2015 by the Research Commission and approved by the Faculty Board at the recommendation of the Scientific Advisory Board. The list is newly compiled at the beginning of every year and thus serves to retrospectively categorize the publications of the previous year.

For this purpose, the current individual lists of the different subject areas – citation indices SSCI (Social Sciences Citation Index) & SCIE (Science Citation Index Expanded) are taken from the Web of Science (Web of Science Core Collection – Web of Science Group) and ranked according to the respective Article Influence Scores of the journals.
clarivate.com/webofsciencegroup/solutions/web-of-science

The top 10% of the journals in these individual lists are listed as Category 1 journals in the FJL. The remaining journals of the top 25% of the individual lists are assigned to Category 2 (see Figure 1).

Additionally, four so-called complementary lists are included in the ranking. These include:

- Business: Jourqual 3.0. This ranking is based on the judgment of professors in Business in the German speaking area. There are two top levels in this ranking: The "A+" journals are assigned to Category 1, the "A" journals to Category 2 of the FJL.
vhbonline.org/vhb4you/vhb-jourqual/vhb-jourqual-3
- Economics: Handelsblatt-VWL-Ranking 2013. Contains all journals in EconLit, journal list of the American Economic Association, plus a few additional journals in statistics as well as Nature and Science. Weights are based on Combes and Linnemer (2010). We use the top two levels in their classification. The journals with "weight 1.0" are assigned to Category 1, the journals with "weight 0.6" to Category 2.

- Statistics: A list compiled by the Australian Mathematical Society (AMS) is used here. The "A*" journals contained therein are listed as category 1, the "A" journals as Category 2 of the FJL.

- Finance: The list compiled by the Amsterdam Business School (ABS) is used here. The "A*" journals included are listed as Category 1, the "A" journals as Category 2 of the FJL.

The journals in our Faculty Journal List are listed alphabetically within the respective category:
